所属 General Education English
 職名 Associate Professor
 学位 Ph.D. (Sociology)

I teach English-speaking and developing and giving English-oral presentations.

I recently co-authored the textbook, Iryogyujisha No Tameno Basic English (Ohmsha Publishing, Tokyo, March 2020). Working in collaboration with faculty from Suzuka University of Medical Sciences, this vocational-specific reading comprehension textbook is designed for nursing students with content focused on medical specialists engaged in their respective professions.

My previous research has focused on techniques to help improve English-oral communication courses in terms of factors such as the importance of gender differences in learning, group composition in facilitating a positive study environment, and myriad teaching methods to improve the educational experience of Japanese students being taught a second language by a foreign teacher.

I am currently co-authoring a general-use English grammar textbook designed to be used by Japanese English-language teachers (expected publication 2021) and helping to develop NITSC's "Global Engineering Program".
